

CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS

Teaching and Learning Technology Conference March 13-14, 2014

Educational Technology at Missouri University of Science and Technology (Missouri S&T) would like to invite you to submit a presentation proposal for the Teaching and Learning Technology Conference, scheduled for March 13-14, 2014.

THEME: Student Engagement

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Dr. Rebecca Brent – President of Education Designs, Inc.

Dr. Brent has authored numerous publications on instructional methods and faculty development in higher education, mentoring and supporting new faculty members, classroom applications of technology in K-12 and college, peer review of teaching, and a variety of other topics in teacher education. Together with her husband, Dr. Richard Felder, she has presented several hundred faculty development workshops on campuses throughout the United States and abroad, and she co-directs the National Effective Teaching Institute, a teaching workshop presented annually under the auspices of the American Society for Engineering Education. She received the 1990 Research Article Award from the Organization of Teacher Educators in Reading and the 1993-94 East Carolina Alumni Association Teaching Excellence Award.

We are looking for presentations that demonstrate how innovations in technology and teaching have had a positive impact on engaging students in the learning process.

Many faculty and teaching professionals have developed creative approaches to the process of teaching and learning utilizing educational technology effectively that have worked to enhance their programs. Here is a great opportunity to share your experiences and achievements! Please submit all proposals by Friday, November 8, 2013 to edtech@mst.edu. Decisions regarding acceptance will be made by Friday, November 22, 2013, with notification following soon after.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The conference will take place in Butler-Carlton Hall on the Missouri S&T campus, consisting of concurrent sessions. Pick the session that best fits your topic of presentation. We are seeking proposals from faculty and teaching professionals who have utilized educational technology and would like to share those experiences with colleagues.

AVAILABLE TRACKS

- Teaching with Technology – Enhancing the instructional process by including a technology component
- Blended Learning – Replacing some or all of the face-to-face communication in class with online tools
- Best Practices in Teaching Strategies – Pedagogical theories on effective teaching (with or without technology)
- “Hands-on” Activity – Computer labs are available for hands-on presentations or demonstrations
- K-12 Education – We always have a number of requests each year on our surveys for more presentations oriented towards a K-12 educator audience. If you are interested in presenting on such a topic, feel free to contribute!

In addition to the tracks outlined above, the Center for Educational Research and Teaching Innovation (CERTI) and the Vice Provost for Academic Affairs at Missouri S&T supported several mini-grants towards educational research projects. The recipients of the mini-grants will be showcasing their research work on Friday, March 14.

Instructors interested in contributing such a presentation can indicate their preference on the next page under the Friday time slots.
